

Fact Sheet – Archaic Revival

Band name : Archaic Revival

Musical style : Symphonic power metal. A blend of thick guitars and heavy drums combined with a soothing string orchestra and angelic choir and topped off with a powerful soprano vocalist.

Hometown : Detroit, MI USA

Current CD : Pagan Evolution

Members/Instruments :

Alexandria Clark : vocals
Derek Cvengros : guitars
Brian McGuckin : drums
Kevin Naeve : keyboards
Chris Allumi : bass guitar

Record Label : Fallen Shadow Records

Points of note : The idea for the group was developed by Derek Cvengros in mid 2005. His main objective was to create a project with its own sound that did not blend in with the typical mainstream bands of America.

“Pagan Evolution” took over two years to write, record and produce. All the instrumentation and composition was done by Derek Cvengros with the assistance of Alexandria Clark’s vocals.

After the release the album, Alexandria and Derek incorporated three new members into the band to play their material live. Together, these five musicians have been performing live in the Detroit area, selling albums worldwide, and writing new material.
